EALS Institute, the training wing of the East Africa Law Society (EALS), invites you to a 5-day bespoke workshop on Legislative Drafting and Statutory Interpretation.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP
The Course is designed for Lawyers, Clerks and Parliamentary staff, Members of Parliament or Assemblies who deal with legislation and the law-making process.

The Course is divided into two parts:

Part One
Legislative Drafting which is intended to enhance the capacity of participants with deeper appreciation of Good Governance, Rule of law and Constitutionalism, principles and tenets of Parliamentary Practice and Procedures, evidence based legislation, domestication of international treaties and Agreements, codification of Statutes and the ever increasing volume of Subsidiary legislation. This Part is building on the Course on Legislative Drafting that took place 24th - 28th February, 2020.

Legislation is technically prepared and processed and is required to be prepared in specified forms and formats. The process of developing, drafting, debating and scrutinising legislation can be intricate and protracted.

Increasingly, laws are delegating powers to make laws to Ministers, Institutions and bodies outside the Legislatures. The Course will equip lawyers and Policy makers from these institutions on the principles that govern the exercise of delegated legislative power and drafting of delegated legislation.

In Parliament, the legislative process is executed through prescribed procedures which provide for the form and manner of presentation, scrutiny, debating or commenting on specific legislative processes and understanding the policy behind the legislation. In Common Law Jurisdictions, Parliamentary Practice and procedure is entrenched in traditions and procedures that constitute standing orders which every person dealing with legislation should be well acquainted with. The Course is intended to provide participants with practical skills and best practices in Parliamentary practice and procedures.

Part Two
Interpretation of Statutes is intended to equip and enhance the capacity of the participants to consistently construe and interpret legislation. There are specific rules that govern the interpretation of legislation. There are also presumptions that apply to interpretation of statutes and guidelines on how laws are construed in order to guide operational and implementation aspects of any law.

The Course will also give participants an opportunity to share experiences on the challenges and best practices in drafting legislation and parliamentary practice and procedures.
Who Should Attend

The Course is designed for Lawyers, Clerks and Parliamentary staff, Members of Parliament or Assemblies who deal with legislation and the law-making process.

Members of devolved units and county governments will also find the course relevant as it covers policy and law making processes at sub-country levels.

Lawyers in public institutions that have mandate to make regulations, including tax and financial sector regulators, energy sector regulators and judicial bodies will also find the course relevant. Lawyers in private practice are increasingly engaged to provide drafting services to public bodies.

The training provides an opportunity for an all-round appreciation of legislative and policy-making for beginners while serving as a refresh-course for experienced practitioners. The course also provides opportunities for trainers in the subject areas to update their knowledge and skills.

ABOUT EALS INSTITUTE
Founded in 2017, EALS Institute has grown rapidly as a reputable center in legal studies. In its first year of operations, EALS Institute concluded unprecedented capacity building programs and partnerships. EALS Institute hosted the first major construction law workshop in the region tailored for the legal profession. Hosted in collaboration with Cornerstone Seminars, the FIDIC Contracts workshop attracted over 150 lawyers from across East Africa and laid a solid foundation for future training activities.

EALS Institute has concluded partnership agreements with Conference of Western Attorney Generals (CWAG) and has hosted several activities under the partnership, notably the Kigali Workshop on Cybercrimes and Forensic Evidence.

The partnership with CWAG especially targets capacity building in the justice administration sectors, targeting not only legal practitioners but also law enforcement agencies and judicial officers. Future trainings under this partnership include trial advocacy, criminal justice, white collar crimes, anti-bribery and anti-counterfeit measures.

We have also partnered with the Africa Legal Support Facility to establish the ALSF Academy as a pan-African legal capacity building mechanism.

Through the initiative, the inaugural ALSF Academy training targeting young lawyers drawn from East Africa, Southern Africa and French-speaking Central and West Africa has kicked off.

EALS Institute has also entered into partnership with the University of Nairobi School of Law and Strathmore University School of Law to promote legal studies and mentorship of young lawyers and law students. Through our partnership with Strathmore University, we have sponsored student moot courts in the extractive industry and aim to deepen knowledge of the extractive industry among key stakeholders.

We have also entered into partnership with the Advocates for International Development (A4ID) to carry out business and human rights trainings across the region.
